TRANSFORMING HORIZONS NATIONWIDE

Working together on a high-profile resort destination community on the paradise coast of Southwest Florida, EBL founders Paul Benson and Michael Hawkins shaped their core strategy: engage a multi-disciplined team of professionals with diverse expertise to integrate real estate development and management into one entity. From this central idea, EBL Partners, the parent of EBL Construction, emerged. Today, EBL Construction is a key player in a multitude of development endeavors.

CANYON RANCH

Comfort commands attention in every room.

Floor-to-ceiling glass reveals the ulterior motives of the home's design. To lure the beauty of the oceanscape delicately indoors. Rich comfortable furnishings and a muted natural palette adorn the living space at eye level. Dramatically high walls and windows draw the mood and imagination upward.

In nature, varying textures, shapes and structures touch and blend to form one harmonious landscape. Indoors, diverse materials create the same effect.

- A creamy limestone wall treatment mimics lines left in the beach by retreating waves.
- The long dining room table accentuates the length of the living and dining areas.

To the left, we see how secluding the loft above a large open space transforms it into an intimate enclave.

A frameless window with an unbroken view of the Atlantic opens up the modest dimensions of this ultra-private den.

Stairs that rise in a single, unbroken progression not only make a statement, but also build anticipation of what awaits at the top level.

The master bedroom and its magnificent open dressing room truly reign prominently. Reconfiguring doors and walls, and combining spaces, created this breathtaking suite.

An elegant soaking tub with a ceiling-mounted filler overhead evokes that elusive “oohh” factor in the master bath and becomes the room’s singular focal point.

Like a wandering path, the home's long hall stops occasionally to reveal hidden gems like a space for artwork, textures and colors.

This is no mere state-of-the-art kitchen. It is the studio of a culinary artiste. Gleaming stainless steel and high-gloss finish doors set the kitchen apart from the adjoining great room.
